BURN FENCE POSTS AND FIELD CORN

Three Nebraska Towns Burning Corn to Prevent Freezing As Coal Vanishes.

Discomfort And Disruption Of Industry Becoming Very Wide Spread.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, December 4.—Preparations for conserving fuel supplies went forward today over virtually the entire country, as the dwindling coal reserves caused incidental discomfort and disruption of industry.

No immediate relief through a return to work of miners was in sight, although the larger coal operators were ready today to submit a new wage scale, which, it was said, would contain more liberal concessions to the miners than the fourteen percent increase proposed by Fuel Administrator Garfield.

Some of the larger cities today, for the first time since the walkout, felt the stress of the situation. From additional cities and towns of the West, Southwest and Central States, some of them entirely without fuel, came reports of actual suffering.

In three Nebraska towns fence posts and ear corn were being burned.

Appearing with Lewis were Secretary Treasurer William Green, of the miners' organization, and Ellis Searles, editor of the Mine Workers' Journal, the official publication of the union.

HEARING TUESDAY.

The men provided bonds of $10,000 each and the hearing will be held Tuesday morning.

The other men named in the information are without the jurisdiction of the local court and proceedings will be started at once for bringing them into court.

The men are charged with violation of the injunction which restrained the officials from encouraging or furthering the miners' strike.

Peace Council Discusses Attitude of Germany in Refusing To Sign.

United States Agent Informs Germany U. S. Delay Not To Be Taken As Favoring Germany.

No Final Decision Reached By Supreme Council On Action To Force Signing.

Expect Note Demanding Compliance to Go Forth in A Short Time.

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, December 4.—The supreme council spent most of today's session discussing the attitude of Germany towards the signing of the peace treaty. Germany's representatives having declared they could not sign it in its present form, including its provision for reparation for the German warships sunk at Scapa Flow, and with other features objectionable to them.

The form of a note to Germany on this question was considered by the council, but no final decision was taken.

It is anticipated, in this connection, that the reply to the German note regarding the Scapa Flow question will contain strong representations as to the consequences of further resistance by Germany.

NOT FAVORABLE FOR GERMANY

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, December 4.—Secretary Polk, head of the United States delegation to the peace conference, summoned Kurt von Lersner, chief of the German representatives here, on Monday and told him that Germany should not interpret as being in her favor any delay that might be encountered in ratifying the Versailles treaty at Washington.

CONSULTING LANSING ON MEXICAN PROBLEM

Foreign Relations Committee Calls Secretary of State For Consultation.

Hitchcock Asks for Amendment To Fall Resolution Pledging Aid Of Congress.

The American Ambassador To Mexico Before Committee

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, December 4.—Secretary Lansing will be called before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee before action is taken on the resolution of Senator Fall of New Mexico requesting President Wilson to sever diplomatic relations with Mexico.

The committee hopes to have the secretary before it late today.

Decision to call Mr. Lansing for a discussion of the Mexican question was reached by the committee after a two hours' session behind closed doors.

American Ambassador to Mexico, Henry Fletcher, was before the committee today to give his views on the Mexican situation. The discussion was said to have revealed considerable difference of opinion among the members regarding the best way of protecting American interest there.

Senator Hitchcock, acting democratic leader, said the administration senators had not taken any definite stand against the resolution, but wanted the committee to be fully advised before a course of action was decided upon.

Republican members were understood to have favored the resolution but they joined with the democrats to get all the facts from Secretary Lansing before reporting to the Senate. Senator Hitchcock introduced a substitute resolution which besides authorizing the President to break diplomatic relations with Mexico would pledge Congress' support to him in any action taken.

CHICAGO ASKS RESTRICTIONS BE EQUALIZED

OPERATORS ARE IN BAD WITH COURT

United States Grand Jury Investigation of Coal Operators Activities

Will Decide Whether "Government One of Law or Group Of Men."

(By Associated Press.)

Indianapolis, December 4.—Judge Anderson of the United States District Court has summoned the federal grand jury to appear here next Monday to take up the investigation of alleged violations of the Lever act and the criminal provisions of the anti-trust act by the coal operators.

This information was given out today in a statement by United States district attorneys.

The determination to summon the jury came as a result of disclosures in the proceedings against the officials of the United Mine Workers of America which the statement said tended to show that the coal operators, as well as the mine union officials were engaged in a conspiracy to violate the Lever act.

What the investigation is to disclose finally, the statement says, is whether the government of this country rules or whether lawless people shall have their way—whether this is a government of law or a group of men.

Plans are under way to keep essential industries, largely those engaged in manufacture of foodstuffs, in operation by an undisturbed flow of coal.

Beautiful in simplicity and in appreciative tribute were the funeral services of Mrs. Margaret Mallow conducted by Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage in the First Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon.

There was no other music, the pastor reading the hymns, "Abide With Me" and "One Sweetly Solenn Thought."

Following the reading of the memoir Rev. Gage made a beautiful little talk, dwelling specially upon the devoted affection which had existed between this mother and her children and the pride which the mother had taken in her seven sons and daughters, all of whom had been with her at the Thanksgiving season. He impressed the value of the Christian training this mother had given her children, of her influence in moulding right habits and developing their characters. She had, throughout their younger years, made the home a social center to which they would always look back with happiness and tender thoughts, and it was also a grateful thought to her family that her desire to be once more established here in a home of her own had resulted in the past year in being comfortably located in the home from which she peacefully passed into the eternal realm.

The burial was made in the family lot of the Washington cemetery.

The floral remembrances were very beautiful, including the floral emblem of the Eastern Star, the only club organization to which Mrs. Mallow belonged.

Those who were here from a distance were Dr. and Mrs. Byron Dawley, Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Entreklin, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Coffman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coffman, Miss Ruth Entreklin, Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Miller and son, of Chicago, Mrs. Ben Barrere, of Wilmington.

OBITUARY

Margaret Ellen, daughter of James and Nancy-Hogue Straley was born near Jeffersonville, Ohio, January 10th, 1851. Her grand parents were among the many worthy families that left the old birthplaces in the beautiful Virginia valleys and came to one of the most fertile portions of the infant State of Ohio.

With the exception of her girlhood years spent at Ohio Wesleyan University, she grew to womanhood in the county of her birth. During her college days at Delaware she became engaged to her future husband, Benjamin F. Coffman, also a student from Fayette county, and to him was married during her eighteenth year.

To this union were born seven children: Cordelia, wife of Dr. B. W. Dawley, of Toledo, Ohio; Edith, wife of Dr. L. P. Howell; Clara, wife of Judge Bell G. Allen; Margaret, wife of Carl A. Entreklin, of Columbus; Benjamin F. and Howard L. Coffman, of Columbus; and Ruth, wife of John J. Miller, of Chicago.

The family circle was unbroken until Oct. 7th 1892 when the devoted husband and father passed to the great beyond.

Having early in life made a decision to become a Christian in spirit and in truth, when bereft of help in the family life in the darkest hour of need with cheerful fortitude she assumed the parental duties and responsibilities, formerly shared by an indulgent husband.

In June 1895 Mrs. Coffman became the wife of John Mallow and "Brookside" the home of Mrs. Mallow became a congenial home for the children of the two families. After a period of ten years, Mr. Mallow who had been a valiant soldier-officer of the great Civil War was called to the colors with his noble comrades in the dim unknown.

Thereafter Mrs. Mallow devoted her life to the education of her younger children and for a time lived with them in Columbus, Ohio until her object was completed. About five years ago an acute illness undermined her health, but through the years of suffering she has been ever cheerful and patient and untiringly devoted to her family.

With the death of Mrs. Mallow on last Saturday afternoon, November 29th, the entire community mourns, for it suffers the loss of a most noble and beautiful soul. Mrs. Mallow was beloved by all who knew her for her deep human sympathy, her charity of mind and her inspiring devotion to all that was good and true. She was generous to the point of self-abnegation; in fact her whole life was a record of self-sacrifice and noble consecration to the services of others, her family and friends.

To these attributes were added a deep sense of religious responsibility and spiritual understanding, which made her words and action a source of inspiration to all who met her.

Hospitality was with her a household matter of prime importance and she so loved to entertain and to accommodate in this wonderful way that

The Need of New Tariff

Among the important tasks confronting Congress this session and one to which the attention of the legislative body was directed, and early action recommended, by President Wilson in his message, is that of enacting suitable tariff laws.

A complete departure from the old tariff plan is imperatively demanded. Even before the outbreak of the world war the people were demanding that our tariff problems be considered and solved as business propositions. That a permanent government policy, based on sound principles of trade, be adopted and that the old plan of framing tariff schedules for use as campaign "thunder" be discontinued and the political parties were harkening to the insistence of the people.

Taxes on some imports—that's all a tariff is—constitute an essential need of the nation. The imposition of a tax upon foreign imports has two purposes to serve. A high duty prevents foreign-made goods from entering American markets in competition with domestic products—that's a tariff for protection. A low tariff permits importation and thus is productive of revenue.

It is with the former more especially that we are now concerned.

The world war compelled America to manufacture products which, theretofore, had always been brought from abroad. Consequently American capital and American enterprise has entered a new field. Those investments must be protected by high tariff until they become self-sustaining.

That is the just thing to the men who invested their money and directed their energy and talent in new fields. Not only that but the nation must maintain these new industries, encourage and foster them because America never wants to again depend on another nation for anything that we can do at home.

Congress should be prompt to enact these new tariff laws because the competition is on now with foreign nations and the effect will soon be felt if protection is not furnished by tariff legislation.

The Coal Strike

The opinion that the strike of the soft coal miners is nearing collapse and that, in a comparatively short time, the coal mines will be in full operation seems to be quite freely expressed.

The reason most frequently given by those who entertain such an opinion is that the miners, denied the generous strike benefit payments from the treasury of their organization by federal court injunction are beginning to feel the pinch of idleness and reflecting seriously on conditions and outlook are realizing clearly that public sentiment in hostile and resent the action of the mine leaders in plunging the nation into such a serious crisis at this time.

They are seeing more clearly, too every day, that, much of merit though their request for higher wage and better living conditions has, they have been made the pawns of radicals who seek not primarily the betterment of the miners' conditions, but profit to themselves and the destruction of organized society.

The miners seem to be losing confidence in the men who led them so far astray and are anxious to get back upon the path which the government—their government—so clearly marks out and take up the orderly processes provided in a free government for the settlement of their differences.

Our Troubles

News print paper and prices continue as the biggest menace the publishers of America, large and small, are facing.

There is a determined effort on the part of publishers to economize in the use of paper. It is not a matter of choice but a matter of necessity. There must be less newsprint paper used or thousands of papers must quit business.

There have been before this disturbed market conditions concerning the supply and price of newsprint paper, but the present condition is one which gives no promise of passing away. It is a permanent shortage—not a temporary flurry caused by unusual and transient conditions.

The crisis is acute. The menace is real and immediate and revolutionary action must be taken if publication is continued.

The publishers are hard hit all at once because they have met the increased costs of everything during the past five years, simply by an increased business, leaving prices, both of subscription and advertising, practically as it was in pre-war times.

It is no longer possible to maintain that policy. The increased business has brought its troublesome conditions.

POETRY FOR TODAY

THE SEED IS THE WORD.

Sowers of feeling and thought with humanity's mind as your field,
Think of the harvest—'tis life or death to the children of men;
Truth is the wheat; and lies, they are the poisonous tares.

Sowing with fingers of steel, with hands that the lightnings hold,
Sowing by day and by night tireless, efficient and swift,
Sowing all lands with your words, but what shall the harvest be?

Words that were false, so sown, deluged the world with woe,
What are we sowing today—wheat to bring joy to our sons,
Or savage brambles, to tear their hearts as fate gathers them in?

Words sown in hatred and guile started the thunders of war;
Over the battles the lies crackled, still fiercer, and flew,
Forming a venomous cloud, choking the ghosts of the slain.

Now that a myriad graves, needless, unnamed, have been made,
Filled with the victims of lies sown by our fathers and us,
Shall we not choose with care the seed we are sowing today?

Sowers of thought, whose field is all of humanity's mind,
Think of the harvest and sow seed that shall feed and not kill—
Truth is the wheat; and and lies they are the poisonous tares.

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Mrs. Charles Engle and son Walter hospitably entertained eight couples of young people Wednesday night in compliment to Miss Hazel Dray, who is home from Washington D. C. for a three week's vacation.

The evening passed merrily in games and social diversions, with light refreshments served. The guests were enthusiastic over Mrs. Engle's luxuriant potted plants and the delicious home made candy in which she is especially skillful.

With the honor guest there entertained were Misses Mary Farrett, Candance Haigler, Violet and Dorothy Rodgers, Louise Dellinger, Elda Sever, Zoe Colaw, Messrs Allan Henkle, Eber, Coll, Chas. Fritz, J. W. Highley, Glenn Bush, Stanley Dray, Floyd Mitchell.

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church invited the young women of the World Wide Guild to meet with them, Wednesday evening, to formulate plans for the taking up of work of the White Cross.

Mrs. J. H. Allen extended the hospitality of her home on Main street to the women and after the appointment of committees served light refreshments.

"In real life the man and woman absolutely suited to each other rarely marry," declared Rabbi Joseph S. Kornfeld recently to a group of 100 or more women, practically all matrons.

It was at a meeting of club women in Columbus and the Rabbi was lecturing on "Daniel Deronda," George Eliot's famous hero.

"There was a man like Christ," said the speaker. "He went about doing good to others, always without a thought of self-aggrandizement. He had learned what so few of us seem to be able to realize, that we can be helpful without trying to convert others to our own particular religion."

According to the rabbi, what is commonly known as platonic friendship is possible—and profitable. "There can be, and should be, as much real helpfulness and happiness in a friendship between a man and a woman as between man and man," said he. "Sex need be no bar."

"There is a fine distinction between living and loving," continued the lecturer, as he read passages from the book. "To love is a talent and many women have it not."

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society and the Young Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Grace Methodist Church held a combined meeting in the church parlors, Wednesday. It was an all day meeting with sixty women, including both members and guests in attendance.

A box luncheon at noon brought the women together for an enjoyable social hour, before the short business session, which was followed by devotionals conducted by Miss Helen Glascock, and prayer by Mrs. J. B. Worthington.

Mrs. Morna Chapman outlined a chapter in the text book; Mesdames G. S. Hodson, Scott Hopkins and W. W. Davies gave detailed and interesting accounts of the general executive meeting at Boston, Mass., Mrs. John Dunlap of Williamsport, District Corresponding Secretary outlined the year's work for both Auxiliaries.

Mrs. G. W. Baker and Mrs. V. P. Smith were new members welcomed into the Society, and Mrs. Alice Adams closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. John Dunlap of Williamsport, Mrs. Martin Junk of Austin, Mrs. John Smith of Williamsport, Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall of Newark, and Rev. K. B. Alexander were among the guests.

Miss Corda McCafferty, Principal at Cherry Hill School entertained Wednesday evening at her attractive home.

Superintendent and Mrs. McClain and her corps of teachers, including the Misses Margaret Stonerock, Marie Bateman, Wanda Mae Norris, Nell Rowan.

All thoroughly enjoyed the conundrums the game of thirty Hidden Geographical Titles, and the University Nut, which consisted of four pieces of cardboard of different shapes and sizes, which, when put together properly, formed the letter T. After giving much time and work to the latter contest, the guests were inclined to say it could not be done when Miss Rowan succeeded in unraveling the tangle.

Miss McCafferty was assisted in the hospitalities of the evening by her sisters, Miss Inez and Mrs. Ola Boyer. Dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Emma Jackson delightfully entertained the young women of her Sunday School Class, "The Philathea Class" at an elaborate four course dinner Wednesday night.

Scarlet carnations and ferns were effectively used in decoration.

The hours after dinner were greatly enjoyed and an advertising contest, cleverly planned by the hostess, and in which each guest received a prize, in the nature of an amusing take-off, aroused merriment galore.

Have You Money?

There are always people with money to invest who are anxious for the largest dividend or interest returns thereon consistent with good business principles and safety.

Many people are waking up to the fact that there are securities on the market today that are paying 7% net, free from taxes, that are just as safe and desirable as investments that are showing net returns of 3% to 4% a year.

We invite your attention to the offerings we now have which show $70 per year on $1000. Is not that better than $15, $25, $35 or $40?

You may employ labor; if so, you demand a full days work for full pay. Why not see to it that your money works a whole day for you instead of a half or a quarter of a day?

We give full explanation of what we have to offer for the asking. See us and we will explain fully. Nobody should fail to seek information on a matter of this sort.

HER LIFE HAS BEEN FULL OF TRAGEDY

Mrs. Constance Schack Gracie.

Mrs. Constance Schack Gracie, prominent New York and Washington society woman, is suing to recover the fortune of her daughter, the late Mrs. Edith Temple Gracie Adams, wife of the chewing gum magnate, Mrs. Gracie, who is the daughter of the late Count Schack, has had a tragic life, losing first her younger daughter who plunged to death down an elevator shaft; then her husband in the Titanic disaster, and now her daughter Edith.

According to Mrs. Gracie, Edith had repeatedly stated that she had made a will leaving her fortune, estimated at $100,000, to her mother. The present action is filed against the husband of her daughter, Mr. Adams, as administrator.

CONSERVE COAL IS URGENT NEED

The national fuel administration has issued an order calling upon the people to use every endeavor to conserve the coal and fuel supply by cutting its use to the limit permitted by necessity. The people are urged to cut off every non essential use. The fuel administration's order for bids the operation of non essential industries.

We join in the request of the fuel administrator and ask the people to co-operate with us in obeying the order to the limit.

The unnecessary use of electricity means an unnecessary use of coal and therefore is a violation of the government order. The use of natural gas for non essentials is also a violation of the letter and spirit of the order.

Help us by conserving the use of electricity and natural gas and central station heat to follow the mandate of the government to meet the present crisis.

Conserve electricity, conserve natural gas and conserve central station heat and thus conserve the rapidly dwindling coal supply.

GRECIAN SMOKES

London, October 20. (By Mail)—Grecian cigarettes are to be manufactured near London by an American concern. The company has a stock of nearly $4,000,000 worth of Macedonian tobacco such as is used in the manufacture of "Turkish" cigarettes. Because the district in which this tobacco is grown is no longer governed by the Turks, the term "Grecian" is to be substituted for "Turkish" by this organization.

FARM NOTES

Spray for Blotch
Paid Big This Year.

A summary of the apple blotch control demonstrations this year in Clermont, Scioto, Lawrence, Hamilton and Warren counties show that where blotted trees were sprayed, 90 per cent of the fruit was free from blight and the remaining 10 per cent was marketable. On unsprayed blotted trees 90 per cent of the fruit was blotted so badly that it was unmarketable.

On the average, the cost of spraying per tree was from 30 to 50 cents, including the sprays for codling moth. Four sprays were applied, two, four, six and ten weeks after the petal-fall. The second and ten weeks spray was for codling moth and contained 1½ pounds of powdered arsenate of lead, in addition to the regular spray which consisted of three pounds of blue stone, five pounds of hydrated lime and 50 gallons of water.

An example of the difference in yield between the sprayed and the unsprayed fruit may be noted on two Smith-Cider trees in Southern Ohio. The unsprayed tree yielded two bushels of apples worth $1.00 a bushel. The other tree yielded 13 bushels of apples worth $2.50 a bushel. The difference between $2 and $32.50 paid handsome profits for spraying.

This work was done co-operatively with the orchardists by the county farm bureau, the Ohio State University, and the United States Department of Agriculture.—O. S. U. Bulletin.

Hospital Stewart Praises Hypo-Cod

Knew Formula of Tonic was Good—
Said it is a Splendid Remedy

"I was troubled with nervousness and my digestion was poor too. I was rundown and wasn't sleeping good nights. I was restless and would lie awake and toss about and then wake up feeling tired out. My appetite was bad and I had to refrain from eating hearty foods, but I don't have to anymore for I took a bottle of this new tonic Earle's Hypo-Cod and must say that it does what they claim for it I have gained flesh and am nowhere near so nervous. I eat anything I want and it has been building me up so nicely I am glad to say a good word for it," declared Francis E. Hoyt, Hospital Stewart at the Soldiers' Home, Dayton, Ohio.

Thousands of people are systematically building themselves up and banishing nervousness, indigestion, catarrhal and bronchial affections and, enriching their blood to fortify themselves for the battle against winter diseases. This is very sensible just now. It means better health, more vitality and freedom from dizzy headaches, constipation, biliousness, aches and pains and possible sickness this winter and loss of time from work and big sick bills. It is mighty expensive these days to be sick. A little preparedness now saves much. Earle's Hypo-Cod with the endorsement of doctors, druggists and thousands of users can be secured here for $1.25, plus 5c war tax.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold by C. S. Haver's and Frank Christopher's drug stores and the leading druggists in all nearby towns. Adv.

AGRICULTURAL CLASSES MAKE GOOD HEADWAY

Active Work in Projects Dealing With Animal Husbandry, Begin at Once.

What Various Members of The Classes Have Planned in Practical Way.

The work of the Agricultural classes in the High School, the same as all other classes, have been a little unsettled for the past two weeks but are beginning to settle down to business as is shown by the fact that all the boys in both courses have settled what kind of project they will carry out and are making very definite plans in that direction. It is a little late in season for determining the line the boys will follow in this work, which is due largely to the newness and stage of uncertainty of the work and which will undoubtedly be over come next year, starting the projects earlier in the season.

Mr. Berry, the Smith-Hughes Agricultural man from the Hillsboro Schools, who has been in the work since it was organized, was in Washington recently visiting the Agricultural classes and a few of the projects and says that the boys are certainly to be congratulated on the nature of the projects they have selected.

The following data will show any doubtful people just what is meant by a project.

Harry Allen, of near Milledgeville, who is taking the Farm Crops course has decided to grow 10 acres of as fine corn as ever raised in his territory.

Robert Cockerill, south of Washington has made the same resolutions as above.

Roy Coll, from west of town has decided to go the other boys one better and raise 12 acres of corn.

John Dean, although handicapped by certain conditions of nature, has made the best of it and selected a field of 10 acres bordering the Chillicothe pike just south of town.

Charles Fabb, south of town, is also handicapped by certain farming conditions on his home place, has decided to try his hand at an acre of potatoes next summer.

Walter Lynch, north of Bloomingburg, has also selected 10 acres upon which to produce a "bouncer" crop of corn.

Willard Perrill, north-east of Washington, also is going to show the people how to raise more good stock feed on a given acreage and he selected 10 acres upon which to do this.

There are several of the boys, who are taking both courses in Agriculture and consequently have two projects to carry on. Although this is not a recommended thing in the department excepting during the first two or three years, Mr. Harbaugh says these boys are showing interest and will carry both projects to a good finish.

Grove Davis, who is living in town, is going to feed 14 head of hogs this winter and produce 8 acres of fine corn next summer.

Jesse Hegler is already into the farming business considerably but is going to put into practice some new idea on 10 acres of corn as well as on the 30 head of hogs he intends to feed out for market this winter.

Noah Kier, who is taking both the courses along in school, is going to overcome all handicaps of being a city boy and raise one half acre of vegetable garden and purchase himself 15 head of hogs to feed out next spring and summer.

Ralph Marchant, like the other boys in farm crops has selected a project of 10 acres of corn. Early in the fall Ralph purchased two fine pure bred Duroc Jersey gilts and is going to give these the proper care and management through the winter and summer until next fall as his Animal Husbandry end of the work.

Stanley Dray is always on the best of terms with his father so they "put their heads together" and decided to get them selves some pure bred hogs to start with and eventually get rid of all grade brood sows on the place. Willard is a noted Pig Club boy of Mrs. Frank Haines, who has been very active in this work.

Fred Hegler, south of town, also is a pig club boy, and is going to purchase himself 3 sows of some good breed and show some of the boys how to care for brood sows and their pigs during the winter and summer.

Harold Hise and Dana Hyer, both already have one brood sow each and intend to carry out their school work with these sows this winter by giving them the proper care and management and then continue the good work with the sows and their litters next summer.

Wayne McArthur, from east of town on the Columbus pike is greatly interested in sheep and intends to learn more about sheep.

Rollin Shilcott, already had one pure bred Spotted Poland China sow and went to the Mart McCoy sale, north of town, and purchased himself another fine registered gilt of the same breed.

Estelle Steele, north of town has two good grade brood sows and will see that these will get proper care through the winter and also their pigs next summer.

Clark Templin, with the consent of his father has decided to purchase himself six pigs next spring and fatten them off according to scientific feeding, for the fall market.

Harry Zimmerman, who has a farm of his own of 85 acres is going to fat ten off 15 head of hogs next summer and produce some excellent pork for the market.

Any one who really doubts the practical side of this work in the high school can see from this that each and every boy means business and the projects are large enough that they can apply the principles carried out in these projects to farming on a larger scale without the least trouble.

BUSINESS IN AMAZON VALLEY IS RECOVERING

(By Associated Press)

Para, Mouth of Amazon River, October 20. (By Mail)—Business conditions in the Amazon valley are beginning to recover from the disturbance of commerce caused by the war. Rubber estate owners, and business men generally, realize that the competition of Oriental "plantation" rubber which has forced the market price of that article down to about the actual cost of gathering "wild" Amazon rubber is really a blessing in disguise, since it is bringing about the development of the other natural resources left untouched so long as rubber monopolized all attention in the valley. Foodstuffs that used to be imported from abroad, or from other parts of Brazil, are now being raised locally.

A party headed by Henry S. Fleming of New York, which has been investigating the commercial possibilities of the Amazon valley has returned to this city after a two-month tour of the Amazon and some of its principal affluents, nearly 5,000 miles of rivers being covered in the course of the trip. Mr. Fleming is receiver of an American company with extensive docking, shipyard and navigation property at Para.

The main river was ascended for over 2,500 miles, as far as Iquitos, Peru, and also the Javary, Purus, Negro, Xingu, Moju, Tocantins and other rivers for varying distances. A vast amount of valuable information and data has been gathered as a result, which is being placed free of

ARE NOW IN USE IN LITTLE NATION

Nikozh, Montenegro November 1.—(By Mail)—American physicians doing relief work in Montenegro tell of some curious methods of treatment employed by the inhabitants of this little mountain country. When a Montenegrin is wounded the first thought of the native is to apply chewing tobacco, horsehair or a fresh rabbit skin with the hair facing inside. Common ink is considered a sovereign remedy for burns. To stop bleeding sores or wounds cobwebs are used. When a person is bitten by a dog, the favorite remedy is to pull off the animal's ear and rub the wound with it.

The patron saint of Montenegro is St. Vasilje, whose shrine is situated on the summit of a mountain between Podgoritz and Niksic. Every week thousands of devout Montenegrins come to this mountain shrine seeking cure for their ills.

LONDON PAPERS FACING CRISIS

The following is an excerpt from the London (Ohio) Madison County Democrat:

"The market supply of 'news print,' the kind of paper used by nearly all newspapers, is not now, nor has it for some time been sufficient to keep up with the demand. The mills can not make it fast enough, and the available wood pulp forests are becoming exhausted. The price is soaring higher and higher—double, treble and quadruple prices are being paid over that of a year or two ago, when it can be had at all, and yet the top has not been reached.

"Many of the lesser papers, which may have a small supply on hand, are not able to get paper at any price and are economizing to their limit—holding on from day to day with the expectation that something may turn up and save them from the seeming inevitable.

"The three newspaper plants of this place are almost out of stock. The publishers have contracts for more with the wholesaler or the mill, but contracts do not bring paper, and each day the supply grows smaller while the market conditions grow worse.

"It may be that London may wake up some day, before long, to find that its three newspapers have suspended publication. In the meantime, efforts will be made to economize by printing fewer pages and advancing advertising charges so that patrons may use less space for their announcements."

CLOTHING FOR THE KIDDIES

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, November 9. (By Mail)—Clothing for babies made by American women in all parts of the United States filled an entire car in a large trainload of Red Cross relief supplies which recently left Paris for Poland. Other important items which made up the fifty-car relief special were refugee clothes and hospital garments, food stuffs, medicines, hospital supplies and farm machinery.

Aid to orphanages and children's homes is an ever increasing activity of the Americans in Poland. At many points along the old Russo-German front, east of the River Bug, where the country was swept bare of everything, they have furnished equipment, food and clothing to help the Poles establish orphan's homes, to care for the lost children who are constantly drifting across the border with refugees returning from Russia.

Existing orphanages which have been found sadly in need of food and clothing to care for their charges have received condensed milk and other food supplies, and children's garments and dress material. In some districts the Americans have hired carpenters, paying them with flour, to make little beds, benches and tables for children homes that had been stripped by the war.

Has the Gas Rate Anything to do with the Electric Rate?

We are often asked the question used as the heading of this statement. We want to answer in a manner that will enable every citizen to understand the truth clearly.

The gas and electric rates have nothing to do with each other. This is clearly shown by the audit of our books recently completed by a special committee of the city council. Some consumers think that because they pay their gas and electric bills at one office it all amounts to one and the same thing in the end. But that is not the fact.

In the first place gas has nothing to do with the production of electricity in Washington C.H. Electricity is produced by costly equipment which is in no way related to gas service. A distinctly separate system of production and distribution is necessary for the electric service. This constitutes property representing a definite large investment which must stand on its own feet and earn its own wages entirely from the revenue obtained for electric service.

We have even found some people who wonder if the losses of the electric department are made up by revenue from the heating system. That the heating department is not even paying its own way is shown in the city council's special audit of our books. We can state it positively thus: The owners would be money ahead if the heating system were discontinued.

The rate charged for gas represents the charge for service from a separate and distinct part of our large investment in this city. First, there is the cost to us for the gas from the Fuel Supply Company. Then there is the cost of delivering the gas; such as labor, losses in transmission, maintenance, taxes, depreciation and return on investment. This applies to the actual property DEVOTED ONLY TO GAS SERVICE.

We believe any fair minded reader will realize from this statement that the gas and electric rates are charges for distinct and separate services supplied by virtue of two separate investments in ACTUAL PROPERTY. Neither of these two properties is in any way dependent on the other for the service it supplies. Hence, the earnings can not be, and are not, distributed between the two. Each must pay its own way if it is to justify its existence.

DEEP INTEREST IN COMING BOUT

Fans of this community are manifesting deep interest in the coming wrestling bout, Wednesday night of next week, between Cliff Binckley, the widely known wrestler of Columbus, and Tom Hillery, coming champion of this city, and with the training that Hillery is expected to have between now and the bout, a great many fans are confident he can defeat his opponent in the finish bout.

Binckley, it is announced by Match-maker Chic Saylor, has lost considerable weight recently, and at the present time outweighs Hillery by only five pounds, or tipping the scales at 180.

However Hillery will take no chance and by proper training expects to be in good trim to take part in the bout, as he has everything to gain and nothing to lose in the clash with Binckley, while Binckley's reputation as a wrestler is at stake.

A snappy preliminary will be put on. Ed Beardsley will referee the main bout of the evening.

SUPERVISORS HERE TO INSPECT CLASS IN AGRICULTURE

The men expressed their approval of the work being done under J. A. Harbaugh, agricultural expert, and heartily approved the manner of taking up the course. Linke and Johnson stated that by co-operation of pupil and parent there was no reason why the work done by the class should not be rated among the best in the state.

Each day for some days members of the Ohio State University, singly or in groups of two or three have visited the school to view the course as it is being conducted by the Smith-Hughes class.

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Cars of Comfort in ALL Seasons

YOU may laugh at the rains and the snows and the winds—if you have a Chandler Sedan or Coupe. In fair weather or foul there are no more pleasing cars than these two.

Both are of handsome lines and finish, luxuriously upholstered and uncommonly restful in the comfort of their cushions. The Sedan seats seven persons, when the auxiliary chairs are used, and the Coupe seats four.

The highest development of the modern coachmaker's art is seen in these two handsome Chandler closed cars. Yet, mounted on the standard Chandler chassis, distinguished above others for its really marvelous motor, they are most fairly priced.

The Chandler Sedan and Coupe are the selection of discriminating purchasers. May we show you these beautiful cars?

It's the longest cherished, most personal gift you can make at Christmas time.

The very spirit of the Christmas season demands that we give gifts that most bespeak ourselves—it is not the monetary value our friends desire.

The time is so short that it seems hardly necessary to urge early appointments for Christmas Photos.

Between members of the family what could better solve the gift problem than your photo in an attractive frame. We have some very desirable frames you should see; prices are very modest.

M'CUAIG COMING SPEAKS SUNDAY

A lecture on a timely subject will be delivered by J. A. McCuaig, of New York, at the First Presbyterian Church in this city Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, when the speaker will discuss the question "Are our Marriage Standards Changing?"

Dr. McCuaig appears under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the meeting will be open to the public.

The lecture will be a discussion of the widespread inclination, both in Europe and America, toward the breaking down of traditional marriage standards.

In a drastic article in a recent issue of the Pictorial Review, Mr. Havelock Ellis, word famous authority on sexual psychology, declares that marriage is an experiment and a risky one at that—and that the system that has worked successfully for 500 years does not seem feasible today under the revolutionary conditions resultant from the war.

"In view of the rigidities and injustices of the law," Mr. Ellis declares,

"many couples nowadays dispense with legal marriage and form their own private contracts. That method has sometimes proved more favorable to the fidelity and permanence of the love than external compulsion. It assists the husband to remain the lover, and it is often the lover more than the husband that the modern woman needs."

It is this trend of thought and disposition in the direction of license that Mr. McCuaig will deal with Sunday afternoon.

SALE OF SEALS IS SATISFACTORY FOR THE FIRST DAY

Christmas Seal Sales for the opening day of the campaign on Wednesday were very satisfactory. All over the city at numerous stations the members of the Mother's Club had taken up positions in the afternoon and each group easily disposed of the seals allotted them and in some instances restocked.

Miss Edith Gardner, chairman of the campaign, reports that the money raised on the first day of the drive was somewhere around one hundred dollars. This report does not include the sale in surrounding towns nor the sale in the rural schools.

Virtually every person approached is willing to add something to the fund and in some instances do not even take the seals. However the committee realizes that it will require some hard work to put the county over in the seal sale and they ask the assistance of each individual.

Groups have taken the seals at the different towns. Each school of the county has been allotted seals. It is believed that the sale has started off correspondingly well every place although no authoritative reports were available the first day.

Thursday, the Daughters of the American Revolution had charge of the sale in the city.

BLOOMINGBURG WINS OPENING GAME OF SEASON

In the opening game of the basketball season at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening the "Y" team was defeated by the Bloomingburg Independents by one lone point. The score was 45 to 46.

Two teams more evenly matched would be hard to find. The score was virtually even during the entire game and at no time could the winner be picked. At the end of the first half the score stood 22 to 21 with the visitors possessing the one point that finally won the game.

Bloomingburg led off with two baskets before the local boys could realize the game was started. Then Hays and Smith made a couple of ringers. From then on until the finish the game belonged to anybody.

Both teams made impossible shots at all angles. Ryder and Jones put the ball through the rings with real cleverness. Bloomingburg won the game on fouls. Out of ten free throws at the basket the visitors missed but one chance to score.

An outstanding feature of the work of both teams, was the playing of Charles Moorehead, athletic coach in Washington High School. A former college player, Moorehead made seven field goals and one foul while playing the guard position. Harold Hays was the highest scorer for the "Y" with nine baskets.

A large crowd of rooters for both squads witnessed the game.

The line-ups:

Y. M. C. A.—R. F. Peterson and Hays; L. F. H. Smith; C. Hays and Stockwell; R. G. Moorehead; L. G. Burnett.

Bloomingburg—R. F. Ryder; L. F. Purcell; C. Jones; L. G. Campbell; R. G. Sheets.

Referee—Meirs and Allemang.

Timekeeper—Hamilton.

Time of halves—20 minutes.

COPPER-CLAD RECEPTION

ALL NEXT WEEK—to the Range Beautiful

Next week we ask you to come and see the range that means so much to your every-day happiness.

To look at the ugly, freaky dirt-catching ornaments on some ranges produces aches, heart-aches, headaches. To start a day with such a range is to invite worry and trouble all day.

With the copper lining between the asbestos and the outer wall in the Copper-Clad range doubles and trebles the life of a range and makes it more economical—this appeals to the men folks who measure things by dollars. To you, the general manager of the world's greatest food factory, to you, who manufacture food for your family every day, three times a day, the strongest appeal of the Copper-Clad is its regular, steady, perfect performance, and its great beauty of design and finish.

We cannot picture the fine, rich, yet simple elegance of the Copper-Clad, you must see for yourself, see how smooth the surface, not a corner or crevice. See how easy it cleans, no bolt heads or hinges or catches or latches. The Copper-Clad wipes clean like a dish.

ALUMINUM WARE FREE NEXT WEEK

While the factory expert is here, his employees permit him to present with each range sold, a set of aluminum ware, without any cost whatever to the range buyer.

We want to call your attention to the quality of this ware. Some aluminum is thin, light, quickly discolored and never feels like it was quite intended for every-day service. It does not stand up.

This aluminum ware is known as the service kind. It is made to use daily, three times a day in the hardest service.

Consider this a Copper-Clad party given by the Copper-Clad Club, made up of owners of Copper-Clad ranges. Come and bring your friends.

We invite you next week to see this wonderful cooking machine, to study its beauty and elegance, to test its performance. A factory expert will be here to show and explain the Copper-Clad range and all its details.
